

future proof
design technology

- ConceptLine
- StudioLine
- Classic
- Equipment
- Special Solutions

Technology and Solutions for your design studio

Kolb Design Technology offers innovative and holistic solutions for the automotive design process worldwide. With its range of high performance modeling machines, studio equipment and services, Kolb is bridging the gap between the digital and physical world, accelerating the entire design process. As a technology leader, Kolb is working on solutions to the disruptive challenges appearing on the horizon of the physical implementation in car design with an even faster, more efficient and more sustainable process.

Special Solutions

As part of the diversified STREICHER Group with a wide range of synergies and know-how, Kolb Design Technology develops and implements individual and holistic mechatronic solutions, from process design and automation technology with specific software to reliable after sales service. We are your competent and broadly based system integrator for every challenge.

Our Customers

